Welcome

Dear colleagues, dear friends,

Congratulations, you've made it to Lisbon, the destination of your RENALC and BLADDR journeys! Some say the journey is more important than the destination. We say: they are equally important. The journeys with the patient case challenges were the ideal warm-up for the real workout: RENALC and BLADDR 2025.

This year, our focus remains on identifying the impact that new data and treatments have on best practice, and how to translate these into your daily clinical practice in order to improve patient management.

To achieve this, we have brought together an international multidisciplinary top faculty to present the data, along with a panel of experts who will shape these data into recommendations on the spot, in a discussion-based format where you will also have a voice!

Yes, in only two days, you will:

- get a full update on renal cancer and bladder cancer
- learn from keynote speakers about the major clinical advances for your practice
- get the chance to interact and challenge the expert panel during case discussions
- share a coffee and your views with top leaders

Join the discussions and participate in the lively discussions! Ready, set, go!

Welcome to Lisbon!
